AEROX Marine offers a carefully selected range of high-performance lubricants designed to meet the demands of modern marine engines. Each product is sourced from trusted manufacturing partners and built to deliver reliable protection, operational efficiency, and durable performance

COMPLETE LUBRICATION COVERAGE FOR MARINE ENGINES

CYLINDER OIL (MCL)

Engineered for slow-speed marine diesel engines operating on high-sulfur fuels.

-  Superior wear protection for cylinder liners
-  High alkalinity for acid neutralization
-  Excellent thermal stability
-  Reduced deposit formation

SYSTEM OIL (TPEO)

Used in trunk piston engines for lubrication of crankcase and piston cooling.

-  Outstanding oxidation resistance
-  Engine cleanliness and sludge control
-  Enhanced component life and durability
-  Reliable performance under continuous operations

MARINE GEAR OIL (GEARPRO)

Suitable for marine gear systems and heavy-duty transmissions.

-  High load carrying capacity
-  Anti-wear and anti-suff protection
-  Smooth and efficient gear operation
-  Long oil life in harsh marine environments

MARINE HYDRAULIC OIL (HYDRAULIC SERIES)

Developed for marine hydraulic systems and equipment operating under high pressure and heavy loads.

-  Excellent wear protection and system reliability
-  Outstanding thermal and oxidation stability
-  Smooth operation in high-pressure conditions
-  Protection against rust, corrosion and foam

MARINE GREASE (GREASE SERIES)

High-performance grease formulated for marine bearings, joints, hinges and heavy-duty moving parts.

-  Excellent water resistance and adhesion
-  Superior protection against rust and corrosion
-  High load carrying capacity and wear protection
-  Extended lubrication intervals and lower maintenance

AEROX MCL SERIES- CYLINDER OIL

APPLICATION

Designed for slow-speed marine diesel engines operating on high-sulfur fuels, ensuring effective cylinder lubrication under extreme conditions.

KEY BENEFITS

-  Enhanced wear protection for cylinder liners
-  High alkalinity for acid neutralization
-  Excellent thermal and oxidation stability
-  Reduced deposit formation and cleaner engine operation

 Sourced for Marine Performance. Delivered with Reliability.

AEROX TPEO SERIES- SYSTEM OIL

APPLICATION

Used in trunk piston engines for lubrication of crankcase components and piston cooling systems.

KEY BENEFITS

-  Excellent oxidation resistance
-  Enhanced engine cleanliness and sludge control
-  Enhanced component life and durability
-  Reliable performance under continuous operations

AEROX GEARPRO SERIES- MARINE GEAR OIL

APPLICATION

Suitable for marine gear systems and heavy-duty transmissions operating under high load conditions.

KEY BENEFITS

-  High load carrying capacity.
-  Anti-wear and anti-scurf protection
-  Smooth and efficient gear operation
-  Long oil life in harsh marine environments

AEROX HYDRAULIC SERIES- MARINE HYDRAULIC OIL

POWERING PRECISION.
PROTECTING PERFORMANCE.

AEROX Marine Hydraulic Oil is a premium quality, high-performance hydraulic fluid formulated for marine systems and equipment operating under extreme pressure and harsh environments. Produced with advanced base oils and premium additives by our certified manufacturing partners, it is designed to deliver excellent system protection, smooth operation, and extended service life

KEY ADVANTAGES

Excellent wear protection and system reliability

Outstanding thermal and oxidation stability

Smooth operation in high-pressure conditions

Protection against rust, corrosion and foam

Long service life and reduced maintenance

APPLICATION

Developed for marine hydraulic systems and equipment operating under high pressure and heavy loads. Suitable for steering systems, winches, cranes, deck machinery and marine control systems.
